

Capacity Crowd at Polo Grounds to Witness First World Series Game Between Yanks and Giants

REGULATORS WANT $200 FOR $5.50 SEATS

Take 'Em or Leave 'Em, Is Attitude of Shrewd Dealers on Broadway

SELL OUT SEEN FOR TODAY

New York, Oct. 4.—How much is a reserved seat at a World Series game worth? The officials of organized baseball here said $5.50, but shrewd dealers along Broadway yesterday said $200. They have made up their minds as to how much the traffic will bear, and you may take the tickets or leave them. The dealers will tell you that the question is not how many they can sell, but how many they can get, and if $40 looks a little too steep for a pair, they will bow you out with a smile.

One pleasant customer man remarked to a prospective customer who whistled at the price that the gentleman must remember the bankers are in town.

That may or may not be the explanation, the fact remains that among a mass of ticket shops visited along Broadway, all but one were doing a lively business in series tickets at a price ranging from $12, where the dealer took an entire set, up to $200 for a single seat at the opening game. Single seats for games other than the first were quoted at an average price of $15.

A few places had tickets but refused to sell them. In all of these the dealer was inquired as to the reason for the refusal. In some cases the dealer was willing to split up sets of seats later in the series. In other cases the dealer was willing to sell only one seat at a time. In some cases the dealer was willing to sell only one seat at a time.

At the Polo Grounds, the first game of the series will be played on Saturday night. The game is expected to be sold out by the morning of the first game. A few said that tickets were being sold at a price that was purely sales talk, as in some of these a goodly supply of the red and yellow pastebards was visible.

Yankees' Hope

Joe Bush

Joe Bush, pitcher for the Yankees, is expected to be the star of the series. He has a record of 20 wins and 10 losses in 1921. He is a right-handed pitcher and has a fast ball and a curve ball. He is expected to be the star of the series.

RED SOX, PHILLIES ESCAPED SHUTOUTS

Athletics and White Stockings Each Kalsomined Five Times in Series

The following table shows shutouts in the World Series between the National and American league champions, with the winning pitcher and score. The Boston American League team have never suffered a shutout in the series, though the Red Sox have taken part in thirty-two contests. The Philadelphia Phillies have escaped their shutouts. The Athletics and White Sox were each whitewashed five times in the series, and the Pirates and Giants three times each. The shutouts follow:

STRAW VOTE GIVES GIANTS 2-TO-1 EDGE

Of 23 Sportmen Who Venture Opinion, 13 Favor McGraw—Even, Say Four Others

New York, Oct. 4.—Interviews with a number of prominent baseball and other sporting men yesterday revealed the rather surprising fact that the majority of them think the Giants will defeat the Yankees in the impending World Series. Of the twenty-three who were willing to venture a prediction as to the outcome of the annual classic, thirteen favored the Giants' chances, six said they expected the Yankees to win, and the other four declared that it looked like an even proposition.

The statements follow:

George W. Grant, owner of the Boston National League Club—It ought to be a great series. I will not attempt to predict the winner, but I think like an even proposition. Teams do not always play to form in a World Series, and the team with the better pitching staff doesn't always win.

John H. W. baseball coach at West Point and former star National League third baseman—I pick the Giants to win because they are a game, tight, well coached, and they have the "Indian sign" on their faces.

Herbert Mann, president of the Cincinnati National League Club and former chairman of the National Commission—The Giants ought to win the series because of their pitching staff. It will surprise me if the Giants are the better team.

Joe Kelly, former star outfielder of the old Baltimore Orioles—It is a difficult task to try to pick the winner. Anything can happen in a short series. Both are great teams and neither seems to have a decided advantage.

John Doyle—It looks like an even proposition. The Giants have a smashing attack, but the Yankees seem better equipped in pitching.

Honest John Kelly—I pick the Giants to win. Their slug ging ought to overcome the Yanks' advantage in pitching.

Deverox Millburn, captain and back of the Mendon Brook "Big Four" international polo team—Why, the Yankees. They are a better team and they are better pitched.

Tex Rickard—The teams seem pretty evenly matched. It looks like a toss-up to me. However, the Yankees, because of their pitching strength, might overcome the Giants' batting.

Zack Wheat, captain and left fielder of the Brooklyn Robins—The teams are pretty evenly matched, but I am inclined to favor the Giants slightly. I think the Giants' hitting power can overcome the Yankees' pitching.

Ivy Olson, veteran infielder of the Robins—I think the Giants will win. I have known McGraw to make few mistakes and he is at his best in an emergency. I expect the Giants to repeat their victory of last year.

Barthelme Grimes, star right-handed pitcher of the Robins—The Giants' hitting ought to offset the Yankees' pitching strength. I expect McGraw's team to win.

Robins' Star Pilets Yanks

Tommy Griffith, right fielder of the Robins—As much as I would like to see the Giants win, I think the Yankees will win. The Giants' pitching is weak and I think that the Yank twirlers will be able to hold McGraw's sluggers.

It is Myers, veteran center fielder of the Robins—The Giants' great hitting ability ought to give them the victory. I don't think that the Yankees' pitchers will show as well as they did during the regular season.

Jimmy Johnston, third baseman of the Robins—I will probably be a hard struggle but the Giants' batting ought to carry them through.

Otto Miller, veteran catcher of the Robins—I expect the Giants to repeat their previous victory over the Yankees. I do not think that there will be any great difference in the quality of the pitching of the two teams.

Debrautown High, Central and Frankford High all finished in a tie for third place when the Cleveland took the measure of the Pioneers by a 3 to 2 score.

Twirls for Giants

ART NEHR

Art Nehr, pitcher for the Giants, is expected to be the star of the series. He has a record of 15 wins and 10 losses in 1921. He is a right-handed pitcher and has a fast ball and a curve ball. He is expected to be the star of the series.

SPEEDBOYS' WIN IS TENNIS UPSET

Northeast High Was Picked to Wade Through West Philadelphians

CHAMPS WON 5 MATCHES

Interscholastic Tennis League Standings

| | | |
|------------------------|---|-------|
| West Philadelphia High | 5 | 1,000 |
| Northeast High | 4 | 800 |
| Frankford High | 3 | 600 |
| Central High | 2 | 400 |
| Southern High | 1 | 200 |

The comparative ease with which West Philadelphia High vanquished Northeast High and captured its second straight tennis title was the feature of the closing day's play of the Public High School Tennis League.

Five straight games were won by the Speedboys' major singles, who outplayed and outgamed their less experienced opponents. In only one contest did a Northeast player give any real trouble.

This was Smith, captain of the Archway team. He met Brommel in the second singles match. In the first set the Westwester took five straight games, then Smith grabbed one. Brommel came back and took the seventh game and the set.

In the second things were much different. The Northeast captain started to get his placement shots working on all six cylinders and scored point after point and ultimately captured the second set and squared the match.

In the final set the Speedboys were at four games all when Brommel, because of their pitching strength, might overcome the Giants' batting.

Zack Wheat, captain and left fielder of the Brooklyn Robins—The teams are pretty evenly matched, but I am inclined to favor the Giants slightly. I think the Giants' hitting power can overcome the Yankees' pitching.

Ivy Olson, veteran infielder of the Robins—I think the Giants will win. I have known McGraw to make few mistakes and he is at his best in an emergency. I expect the Giants to repeat their victory of last year.

BERTHELLYN CUP FAIR GOLFERS' AIM

Match Play Begins Today in Trophy Tourney at Huntingdon Valley

MRS. BARLOW IS MEDALIST

Match play in the Berthellyn Cup golf tournament started this morning, with four sixteen competing. In the qualifying round yesterday Mrs. J. K. Mitchell, Mrs. C. W. Beck and Mrs. E. H. Fidler tied for first place in the first sixteen, and the play-off was won by Mrs. Mitchell.

A tie also cropped up in the fourth sixteen, where six players were deadlocked. They started to play off the tie at 9 o'clock this morning, and the winner will meet Mrs. Perry.

There will be beaten eight in each flight, and the prize money will be driving, approaching and putting contests, and foursomes and mixed foursomes.

Mrs. Donald Barlow, of Merion, was winner of the qualifying round with a 90 yesterday.

The qualifying round was remarkable for the fact that so many high scores were the order of the day. Last year Cecil Lettich won the medal with an 82, and there were four competitors under 90. Nothing like it is coming on the sixteenth hole, where S. and S. predominated.

Match play will continue until Saturday, when the final will hold the center of the stage.

HOPE TO FLY ACROSS CONTINENT IN 30 HOURS

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 4.—Lieutenants Oakley G. Kelly and John Macready, army aviators, expressed confidence today that their proposed non-stop flight from San Diego to New York, starting at dawn tomorrow, would be a success. "We expect to make the trip within thirty hours," Lieutenant Kelly said.

The aviators, who are the quarterback in an exceptionally good field game, according to Nicholson. He also is very fast. He weighs only 150 pounds. He is a right-handed pitcher and has a fast ball and a curve ball. He is expected to be the star of the series.

HOWLEY TO PILOT TORONTO

Peppery Pilot Comes to Terms With Club Owner

Toronto, Oct. 4.—Dan Howley will manage the Toronto baseball club's team in 1923. Negotiations opened yesterday with the peppery pilot who took the Leafs to a pennant in 1918, ended in an agreement between Howley and Lawrence A. Sulzner, owner of the club.

Since leaving Toronto after the 1918 season, Howley has been with the Detroit Tigers under Hughey Jennings and Ty Cobb, with the exception of one season spent at Hartford, Conn., in the Eastern League. When Cobb took command of the Tigers he re-engaged Howley, who had been released by Jennings.

Fair and Warmer for First Game, Is Promise

The thousands of fans who will turn out for the opening game of the World Series between the Giants and the Yankees at the Polo Grounds will rejoice in the news that the weather will be fair and warmer. It will not be necessary for the fans to wear overcoats as it was a year ago at the opening contest of the 1921 series. The official report is fair today, not much change in temperature. Fair weather is predicted for the second game of the series tomorrow.

Few Early Fans in Line for Tickets

New York, Oct. 4.—But thirty persons were in line before the gates at the Polo Grounds at midnight. Bernard Herrigan, of Brooklyn, who reached the Polo Grounds at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, held first position in the line.

JAPAN CABINET TO ACT IN ARMS CASE

TOKIO, Oct. 4.—The Cabinet has decided to take drastic action against those responsible for the disposal of quantities of arms in Siberia. The arms in question belonged to the Czechoslovak troops who evacuated Siberia two years ago. A formal protest and claim for $60,000 yen have been filed with the Japanese Government.

10 YEARS FOR KILLING NEGRO OVER CRAP GAME

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 4.—Edward Reddin, Negro, was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment and to pay $500 fine for the killing of James Smith, also Negro, on May 30, following an argument over a crap game, by Chief Justice Pennewell in Court of Oyer and Terminer today. He pleaded guilty to manslaughter.

U. OF SOUTH COACH PREDICTS VICTORY

Nicholson, Famous Hurdler and Sewanee Tiger Mentor, Says Team Will Beat Penn

The Pennsylvania football eleven is in for a very tough and strenuous afternoon on Saturday, according to the prediction penned by John C. Nicholson, coach of the University of the South, in a letter received by Edward R. Bushnell, noted graduate manager of athletics, today.

"The squad is keyed up to a high pitch," wrote the Southern tutor, "and by Saturday will be ready to go the limit. Despite the fact that considerable literature has been sent to our camp about Pennsylvania with predictions that it is one of the best teams in the history of Pennsylvania, we do not expect to get walloped. In fact, starting as it now seems, we expect to bring home a victory."

The University of the South is located at Sewanee, Tenn., and the football players are known as the Sewanee Tigers. Their coach is the former track and gridiron star of the University of Missouri. As a star hurdler he was a member of the American Olympic team of 1912 and competed many times in the Penn Relay games.

Simpson's Classmate

Nicholson was a great hurdler, but his running was overshadowed at Mt. Vernon when he attended the University at the same time as Bob Simpson. Nicholson is a close student of football and has turned out several good teams since he became director of all athletics at Sewanee. This year he has a line that averages more than 180 pounds from tackle to tackle and a fast, and heavy backfield.

Irish Coughlan is the backfield star and his name is familiar to sport followers in this city. Coughlan equaled the world's record for the 440-yard hurdles in the Pennsylvania relay games two years ago. His hurdling success, of course, was due to the clever tutoring of "Scribner."

Coughlan is extremely fast and a clever man in the open field. In addition, he is noted for his dodging of tackle plays and line punting. He weighs 170 pounds.

Powers, who is the quarterback, is an exceptionally good field general, according to Nicholson. He also is very fast. He weighs only 150 pounds. He is a right-handed pitcher and has a fast ball and a curve ball. He is expected to be the star of the series.

Irish Coughlan is the backfield star and his name is familiar to sport followers in this city. Coughlan equaled the world's record for the 440-yard hurdles in the Pennsylvania relay games two years ago. His hurdling success, of course, was due to the clever tutoring of "Scribner."

Coughlan is extremely fast and a clever man in the open field. In addition, he is noted for his dodging of tackle plays and line punting. He weighs 170 pounds.

Powers, who is the quarterback, is an exceptionally good field general, according to Nicholson. He also is very fast. He weighs only 150 pounds. He is a right-handed pitcher and has a fast ball and a curve ball. He is expected to be the star of the series.

HOPE TO FLY ACROSS CONTINENT IN 30 HOURS

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 4.—Lieutenants Oakley G. Kelly and John Macready, army aviators, expressed confidence today that their proposed non-stop flight from San Diego to New York, starting at dawn tomorrow, would be a success. "We expect to make the trip within thirty hours," Lieutenant Kelly said.

HONOR MEMORY OF EX-PRESIDENT HAYES

FREMONT, Ohio, Oct. 4.—People of all walks of life were gathered here today to honor the memory of Rutherford B. Hayes, nineteenth President of the United States, on the centennial anniversary of his birth. Mingled with local workaday folks, some of whom remembered the former President as a boy, were those who were intimate with him in his manhood and who had come from afar to his birthplace to render homage.

SOVIET REDS IN CLASH NEAR VLADIVOSTOK

TOKIO, Oct. 4.—Two cruisers and four destroyers have gone to Vladivostok to cover the withdrawal of the Japanese troops and to protect nationals thereafter, as it is feared there will be heavy fighting between the Soviet Red forces and the Whites, or anti-Soviet troops. There have already been engagements near Lake Hanka, about one hundred miles north of Vladivostok.

Fair and Warmer for First Game, Is Promise

The thousands of fans who will turn out for the opening game of the World Series between the Giants and the Yankees at the Polo Grounds will rejoice in the news that the weather will be fair and warmer. It will not be necessary for the fans to wear overcoats as it was a year ago at the opening contest of the 1921 series. The official report is fair today, not much change in temperature. Fair weather is predicted
